Annual Meeting: Nominations and Elections

by Mary M. June

April is when CCHS's Annual Meeting is held and when elections take place. This year they will take place on Thursday, April 26, at 7 p.m., at CCHS, 115 Ashmun Street. The brief business meeting and elections will be held prior to a talk by Dr. Jonathan Allen.

Board members who served during 2011-2012 are: Mary M. June, President; Susan James, Vice President, Programs and Publications; Bernie Arbic, Treasurer; Virginia Cymbalist, Secretary; Amber Clement; Don Cooper; Jim Dwyer; Tim Ellis; Sharyn Faunt; Dennis Hank; Robert Money; Patty Olsen; Janet Russell; Karen Sabatine; and Anthony Stackpoole.

I wish to thank all our board members for their work, participation, and support over the past year.

In April 2012, the following board members' terms will end: Tim Ellis, Susan James, Janet Russell, and Anthony Stackpoole. And we lost Robert Money this past year; his term was also due to expire. Tim Ellis, Susan James, and Janet Russell have indicated their interest in continuing as board members. Anthony Stackpoole has decided to step down, but he will continue to help the Society as his schedule permits. We appreciate his past service and support.

The Nomination Committee of Virginia Cymbalist and Mary June present the following slate for three-year terms on CCHS's Board of Directors: Tim Ellis, Susan James, and Janet Russell for terms ending in 2015; Caroline Grabowski and Paul Sabourin are new nominees for terms ending in 2015; and Carolyn Person is a new nominee to complete one year in a vacant term ending in 2013. Thank you to the nominees. Additional nominations may be made from the floor at the meeting.

The Nomination Committee is presenting the following slate for CCHS's Officers of the Board: Mary June for President, Susan James for V.P. of Programs and Publications, Bernie Arbic for Treasurer, and Virginia Cymbalist for Secretary.

Dr. Jonathan Allen Will Speak at Our Annual Meeting

You are invited to our annual meeting on April 26, at 7 p.m., at CCHS. Dr. Jonathan Allen, Professor of Political Science at Northern Michigan University, will speak about “Alexis de Tocqueville and the Native American ‘Other:’ The Michigan Experience.” His talk will focus on the French political thinker and historian's views on Native Americans, which were strongly shaped by a trip he made to Sault Ste. Marie. In May 1831, de Tocqueville and his companion, Gustave de Beaumont, came to America to investigate the prison system. They took a nine-month journey across the country studying American society. From July 22 to August 14, the two traveled through Michigan and Wisconsin, sailing on a steamboat and making excursions by canoe on Lake Michigan and Lake Superior. Part of their goal was to examine the French influence in the area. In 1835, de Tocqueville published the first volume of his book Democracy in America.

Dr. Allen began teaching at NMU in 2008. He holds degrees from universities in South Africa, Canada, as well as from Princeton University. In 2010 he spoke about de Tocqueville at a symposium at NMU and his work was recommended to us by his colleague Dr. Daniel Truckey. The talk is free to the public and will be the first event in our new meeting room at 115 Ashmun Street. Refreshments will be provided.

Robert Money Memorial Fund

CCHS Board member Robert Money passed away on December 13. He was well-known as an educator, historian, and promoter of U.P. and Michigan history. He was active on the CCHS Board for many years. In 2008, he won the Historical Society of Michigan’s Charles Follo History Award, which recognized his major contribution to preserving and advancing U.P. history. Bob is greatly missed. If you would like to honor his memory, donations may be made to: Robert Money Memorial Fund, CCHS, P.O. Box 342, Sault, MI 49783. So far, $340 has been contributed. See our Thank You page for the list of contributors.

Capital Campaign

Our current goal is to pay the mortgage on our building, pay our city street assessments, and create a $10,000 building emergency fund. $43,000 is needed to achieve that goal. We could also use some assistance with fundraising. Recent donors are listed on our “Thank you” page.
CCHS Building
Over the winter, we have been reorganizing our building with the help of Carolyn Person, Dee Stevens, Ginny Cymbalist, Mike Bennett, Jim Dwyer, Mary June, Susan James, volunteers from the Men’s New Hope House, and others. Jack DeWeese and Bill Gerrish made the finishing touches to our kitchen cabinets. Our “stage room” is now available to use for our meetings and events. It is the large room in the middle of our building located adjacent to our kitchen and across from the American Café booth. Thanks to everyone for their amazing feats of strength and organization. The work is ongoing as we further organize our collection and research areas.

Gift Shop
The Gift Shop will reopen on Monday, April 23, the week of our annual meeting. Plans are to be open week days, Monday through Friday, from 1 to 4 p.m. If you are interested in volunteering, please contact us.

Sault Summer History Camp
by Ginny Cymbalist and Patty Olsen CCHS will run a week-long history camp this summer, from July 9-13, with the help of grants from the Michigan Council for Arts and Cultural Affairs and the Roberts P. and Ella B. Hudson Foundation. Patty Olsen will direct the camp with assistance from fellow retired teacher, Ginny Cymbalist, and from artist and teacher, Alice Gadzinski.

The camp is open to up to 20 participants aged 9-11 (or have completed 3rd, 4th, or 5th grade). The base of the camp will be the Water Street Historic Block with excursions to other historic destinations. It will be an activity-packed five days with speakers, hands-on demonstrations, etc. The first day of camp will focus on our Native American History, the arrival of John Johnston, and the fur trade. On Tuesday, participants will explore what this community was like in the 1820s. On Wednesday, the Sault will be viewed as a frontier town. Copper and iron ore mining brought change to our area. A visit to Bill Morrison’s blacksmith forge is planned for Thursday. Friday's activities will focus on the building of the State Lock followed by a visit to the River of History Museum. At the conclusion of the day, parents/guardians will be invited for refreshments and to share what the children experienced during the week.

The cost of the camp is $50. Information is being sent to area local schools and libraries. If you are interested in registering a child, please contact CCHS by leaving a message at 906-635-7082, emailing cchs@sault.com, or contacting Patty Olsen or Ginny Cymbalist. A registration form will be sent to you. Registration is limited, so please apply early. The deadline is June 15.

History Fest and Sault Ships & Sailabration
by Ginny Cymbalist
History Fest 2012 will be held the weekend of August 3 and 4 and will be part of a much larger celebration called “Sault Ships & Sailabration.” It will honor the maritime history of Sault Ste. Marie from the earliest Native canoes to modern Coast Guard vessels. LSSU is sponsoring the visit of a tall ship with many accompanying activities. There will be a Maritime Artist and Authors showcase. The annual sidewalk sales will take on a new look while retaining many of its traditional features, including its car and motorcycle show.

We’re pleased that the History Fest portion will again be held on Water Street. We’re working hard to have more enchanters, en-campers, and traders in attendance. There are many groups involved in the planning of this event which, we hope, will grow each year. If you would like to join in the planning of this event, please contact the Sault Convention and Visitors Bureau at 632-3366. Watch for more information in our July newsletter.

Sneak Preview of the Water Street Signage Project
by Bernie Arbic
In the last newsletter, we mentioned that CCHS was working with city officials to produce a series of interpretive signs that will be placed along Water Street. This has been a wonderful opportunity for us to help create displays that should enhance an appreciation of the Sault’s history for residents and visitors alike. A total of 30 panels will be placed—a group of 12 on the low wall opposite where Brady Street joins Water Street, and 12 more on the wall opposite where Bingham joins Brady; plus 6 single panels distributed along Water Street between Osborn Boulevard and Johnston Street. The panels will contain text combined with about 70 images — maps, photographs, and artwork. The plan is for the panels to be mounted in June, ready for dedication ceremonies the weekend of June 23rd, when the Sault is hosting the Great Race of antique vehicles, as well as the Historical Society of Michigan’s annual U.P. History Conference.

One of the panels will show a sampling of the types of vessels that have plied the St. Marys River over the years. There will be a lithograph of a side-wheel passenger vessel, and photographs of a schooner under full sail in the lower river and freighters from the early 1900s to present day. We also commissioned local artist William Gerrish to produce a special illustration to show a steam tug towing a string of schooners—a scene that was common here for several decades in the mid to late 1800s. An article in the Marquette Mining Journal in the fall of 1868 gave us valuable specific information. It stated that the steam tug Jay C. Morse had had a very successful season that year towing schooners on the St. Marys River, and mentioned that the tug had handled several strings of five schooners, and even made one trip towing six of them. A search on the Internet located a couple of photographs of the Morse. They were from different angles and the tug was partially obscured, but they enabled Bill to come up with an image that is probably quite accurate. Then, working from several photographs of Great Lakes schooners under tow, he came up with the artist’s conception we include here. It portrays a view one might have seen in the 1860s from the area of present-day Brady Park. We are thrilled with the 18 by 24 inch drawing. Eric Demaray at Sault Realism scanned the image in several pieces to give us a digital file that can be used in the production of the panel. We will probably also use the image on notecards to sell in our Gift Shop, and perhaps produce prints for sale as well. Thanks Bill!
Sault Ste. Marie International Bridge is 50 Years Old This Year by Phil Becker, General Manager, International Bridge Administration

The bi-national Sault Ste. Marie Bridge Authority Board of Directors and the International Bridge Administration (IBA) staff have planned many community events and initiatives to celebrate this historic milestone for the Bridge, the Sault communities, the U.S., and Canada. Some of the more significant events are:

50th Anniversary Bridge Lighting
Red and white industrial rope light strands will grace the Canadian Arch portion of the bridge, and red, white, and blue strands will grace the U.S. double arch portion of the bridge. These strands will be lit in a community celebration at dusk on Thursday, June 28, 2012. The primary celebration site will be at the Roberta Bondar Pavilion in Sault, Ontario, with a secondary celebration site in the Sault Locks area in Sault, Michigan.
There will be a bi-national fireworks display clearly visible from both Saults following the ceremonial lighting of the 50th Anniversary bridge lights.

50th Anniversary Bridge Walk
This year’s 26th annual bridge walk sponsored by both Sault Chambers of Commerce, planned for Saturday, June 30, 2012, will be a special celebration. This event will be expanded to include a bike parade across the bridge, revolving historic digital photo displays, 50th anniversary video, and bus tours across the bridge narrated by bridge staff.

“Crossing Conversations” Website
On May 21, 2012, an enhanced and expanded Sault Bridge website will go live that will host a “Crossing Conversations” portal, in which we courage citizens to help us record the rich history of public crossing of the St Marys River. This will be accomplished by encouraging citizens to post, for public viewing, any experiences, stories, photos, news dippings, or memorabilia from the ferries and the bridge. It is hopeful that the public response to this initiative will be such that the volume of information posted can be reviewed and organized for consideration for possible future publication as a “50th Anniversary Commemorative” album available to the public.

Traveling Historic Displays
Two displays with revolving historic photos and a 50th anniversary video on display monitors will circulate through public buildings in both cities, beginning May 21, 2012. Public libraries and historic sites that are interested in hosting a display for a week are encouraged to contact the display coordinator, Karl Hansen at (906) 635-5255 ext. 135 at the bridge office or via e-mail at HansenK@michigan.gov.

Commemorative Electronic Toll “Prox” Card Release
The bridge electronic toll card is very popular with frequent crossers. The 50th Anniversary will be commemorated with the limited time sales of a distinctive 50th anniversary design prox card. The prox card will feature an iridescent under layer that will enhance the brilliance of the 50th anniversary graphics on the card. Card sales will begin on May 21, 2012 and the standard card purchase price of $5.25 will apply.

Bridge Staff Presentations and Group Field Trips Bridge staff are eager and available to visit schools and other group meetings to present a pictorial overview of the history of public transportation between the twin Saults that started over 125 years ago with ferry service, and culminated in 50 years of service by the Sault Ste. Marie International Bridge. Also, bridge staff extend an invitation to schools and community groups to consider a group field trip to the bridge that could include a firsthand guided tour and view of ‘behind the scenes’ bridge operations as well as a visit to the U.S. and Canadian Customs facilities.
Those interested are encouraged to contact Phil Becker at (906) 635-5255
ext. 112 at the bridge office or via e-mail at Beckerp@michigan.gov.

Children’s Coloring Book and Bridge Modeling Contest
Children are encouraged to explore their creativity and artistic abilities to create and submit line drawings, as well as build models, depicting the bridge and surrounding physical features. The top line drawing selections will then be incorporated into a 50th Anniversary children’s coloring book that will be available on the bridge website. The top bridge models will be permanently mounted for public viewing at the bridge offices. Contest prizes, rules, and registration forms are on the bridge website at www. michigan.gov/iba. The deadline for submissions is June 1, 2012.

Commemorative Postcards
A set of 5 postcards with photos and graphics commemorating the 50-year history of the bridge have been created as collector’s items and individual cards will be handed out to the public at the various celebration events.

50th Anniversary Banners and Plantings
In May, large anniversary banners will be placed on the steel structure above the bridge lanes near each end of the bridge. Pole banners will be placed on both the U.S. and Canadian Plazas. Flower beds and other shrubbery will be planted in early June as part of 50th anniversary grounds and building beautification efforts.

October 31, 2012 Anniversary Date Celebration
It was on October 31, 1962, around 3:00 p.m., when the first paying customers rolled across the bridge. Since then, nearly 93 million vehicles and over $50 billion (U.S.) in trade has crossed. This anniversary date will be celebrated with free commemorative gifts given to bridge crossers by toll attendants and a 50-year commemorative plaque unveiling at the toll plaza.

More information is available at the bridge website: www.michigan.gov/iba and as details are finalized on these events and initiatives, that information will be posted there.

Spring 2012 EUP History Consortium Meeting
The CCHS will be hosting the Spring meeting of the EUP History Consortium on Saturday, May 12. Daniel Truckey, the director of the Beaumier U.P. Heritage Center at NMU, will speak about exhibit techniques and the U.P. Heritage Trail Network. Historical group attendees have also been invited to see some of the architectural features of the Edward Demar designed home of Connie Pim, president of the Sugar Island Historical Preservation Society, and her husband Jim. We will soon have more information about the meeting.
Water Street Historic Block
by Mary M. June
We anticipate re-opening the Johnston and Schoolcraft homes and the Kemp Industrial Museum for the summer, on Engineers Day, Friday, June 29. They will be open until Labor Day, Monday, September 3. We hope to bring back the actors who portrayed John and Susan Johnston and their daughter, Jane Johnston Schoolcraft, along with popular musicians, Dave Stanaway and Susan Askwith.

Work is expected to continue on the Baraga House this spring and summer. Peter DeCourcy is heading up the work at the Baraga House and will be looking for volunteers to help. Last year, he and volunteers were able to get sheetrock installed on the second and third floors. He is hoping to get the first floor done this summer.

Michigan Notable Author Display
On Tuesday, June 12, Bayliss Public Library will host crime novelist Scott Sparling, one of 20 Michigan Notable Authors chosen by the Library of Michigan for 2012. CCHS is planning a railroad display in the library's lobby early in June to correspond with the major theme of Sparling's book Wire to Wire. We thank Dennis Hank for offering to display some of his collection. For more information on this year's Notable Books and Authors, see www.michigan.gov/notablebooks.

Historic Churches
Planning will begin soon for the Historic Churches of Sault Ste. Marie programs this summer. They will take place on Monday evenings from June 18 to August 20 at six of the local churches. Watch for the schedule of musical events and talks in the next newsletter as well as in local newspapers and calendars.

U.P. History Conference
The Historical Society of Michigan's 2012 U.P. History Conference will take place in Sault Ste. Marie from June 22 to 24. CCHS and LSSU are the local co-sponsors. CCHS is currently represented on the planning committee by Mary M. June, Nancy Steinhaus, and Susan James. A planning meeting was held in the fall at Bob and Margaret Money's home. The conference promises to be a wonderful event with talks by authors and historians, workshops, tours, a luncheon, dinners, awards, and music. The last time the conference was held in the Sault was in 2005 at the time of the Soo Locks Sesquicentennial. There will be more information on the conference released soon by the Historical Society of Michigan at www.hsmichigan.org. Timely themes include Ferries and the International Bridge, the War of 1812, Historic Water Street, etc. Bernie Arbic and Dee Stevens are among the participants.

Keith Taylor’s January Talk
In January, poet and U. of M. professor, Keith Taylor spoke at CCHS to about 30 people about the poetry and life of Jane Johnston Schoolcraft. She is considered the first known Native American literary writer. Jane was the daughter of fur trader John Johnston and his Ojibwe wife, Oshawgusoday-wayqua. Taylor suggested that she is just being discovered and that she will become the focus of many scholars’ work in coming years.

Johnston Dinner
With all of our other events this summer, we have decided to take a year off from holding our annual “Dinner with the John Johnstons” fundraiser. Last year was one of our best years and we hope to offer you a similar entertainment opportunity in 2013. Thank you to all of the performers and to everyone who attended and volunteered last year! It was very successful.
Auction of Prints
United Way of the EUP is the recipient of 23 prints donated by Huntington Bank. Some of the prints are of the Edmund Fitzgerald and are signed by local artist David Conklin and two are signed by Gordon Lightfoot. Other marine or wildlife artists represented include Pat Norton, Michael Blaser, Owen Gromme, Dirk Hansen, Terry Redlin, and Maynard Reece. The prints are framed and matted. If you would like to review them, see www.UnitedWayEUP.org. They will be up for auction in May; details are to be determined.

Our New Meeting Room (See article on page 2)
“Then and Now”
by Bernie Arbic
A gasoline station was located on the southeast corner of Ashmun and Ann Streets for some years in the mid-20th century. One of the owners was named Magruther, and the Polk City Directory shows it as Payment’s Zephyr Service in 1958, when this picture was probably taken. Walter Materna took some photos while he was having his tank filled there. The first was taken looking east across Ashmun, as the attendant was pumping gasoline. Note the partially visible van for the Gerrie Press behind the gas pumps. The store in the background on the left (northeast corner of Ann and Court Streets) was known as the Arctic Ice Cream Parlor, operated for a time by Horace Soden, then by Harry Johnston, and later by the McKee family.

Attempting a “Then and Now” comparison, Bernie Arbic took this picture on March 17, 2012 and converted it to black and white. The gas station building is gone, but the connecting apartment building survives. The Arctic Ice Cream Parlor building was razed within the last year or two, having meantime been a residence for many years.

Materna took two other photos while getting gas, from different angles. In one of them, we could zoom in for a close-up of the pump, to see what gasoline sold for at the time. The price was 32.9 cents per gallon, and you can probably make out on the pump that the total was $1.02 for just over three gallons. In 2012 dollars, using an online calculator to account for the effect of inflation, that works out to be the equivalent of about $2.60 per gallon today. So the price of gasoline has risen faster than the general consumer price index. We wonder how many miles per gallon Walter got with his DeSoto that is pictured.
